A lecture by Mrs. Conquest, illustrated by lantern slides, descriptive of the work being done by the Red Cross Society, was given in the basement of the public school in Didsbury on Friday evening last.

Mrs. Conquest is evidently keenly interested in the Society and her address was worthy of the appreciation which it evoked. By means of the slides she took her audience with her into various countries of the world and showed what a useful work the "Great Mother" is doing. The Red Cross, she said is now world-wide and the activity of its members is unceasing in the cause of suffering humanity. The lecturer also went into considerable detail to explain the scope of the big organization in Canada. From the landing of the immigrant the society took hold, and by means of interpreters and spacious quarters fitted for the reception of the women and children; every endeavor was made to make them feel they were in friendly and kindly hands. Other pictures showed Red Cross nurses established in settlements far from the big centres carrying on their work of mercy. East and west, north and south, the work is being carried on and the circle is ever growing, resulting in a greater demand for skilled and trained nurses. The expense grows correspondingly, and the lecturer in dwelling upon this gave her audience some idea of the money involved in establishing hospitals, and providing artificial aids to those deformed.

At the finish of the lecture, Mayor Chambers took the chair, and in appreciative tones spoke of the Red Cross as a big organization and one worthy of their support and assistance. He then submitted the question of the organization of a branch in Didsbury. This was put to the meeting and carried, and an election of officers resulted

A small outbuilding on the premises of and situated a short distance from the Rosebud Hotel caught fire Monday morning in a peculiar manner. A gas engine inside is used when emptying the septic tank, and in starting the engine that morning Chris, Mack states it backfired. That and a small leakage of gas tells the story. Fortunately the building was a small one, and the fire brigade concentrating its entire force had but little difficulty in coping with the outbreak.

BAREE, SON OF KAZAN

by James Oliver Curwood

A LOVE EPIC OF THE FAR NORTH

Copyright, 1917, by Doubleday, Page & Co.

"BAREE, SON OF KAZAN," a Vitaphone Picture, With Wolf, the War Dog, is an Adaptation of This Story

SYNOPSIS

With the coming of the tonic-filled days and nights of the Red Moon, a change came over Baree. Nepees, the trapper's daughter, had made a pet of him, but Baree was half wolf and at the call of the wolves he fled, to join his own, as Pierrot, the trapper, had predicted. "Go, Baree," Nepees enjoined him. "But you must come back." Baree entered the woods and joined Maheegun, a young she-wolf, who also was seeking the pack. The ears of both were attuned for the slightest sounds from the wolves.

The snow grew deeper under their feet. In the open spaces they waded through it to their knees, and it continued to fall in a vast white cloud that descended steadily out of the sky. It was near midnight when it stopped. The clouds drifted away from under the stars and the moon, and for a long time Baree and Maheegun stood without moving, looking down from the bald crest of a ridge upon a wonderful world.

An hour after they entered the plain there came suddenly out of the west the tongue of the wolfpack. It was not far distant, probably not more than a mile along the foot of the ridge, and the sharp, quick yapping that followed the first outburst was followed by the long-fanged hunters had put up sudden game, a caribou or young moose, and were close at hand. At the voice of her own people Maheegun laid her ears close to her head and was off like an arrow from a bow.

The unexpectedness of her movement and the swiftness of her flight put Baree well behind her in the race over the plain. She was running blindly, favored by luck. For an interval of perhaps five minutes the pack were so near to their game that they made no sound, and the chase swung full into the face of Maheegun and Baree. The latter was not half a dozen lengths behind the young wolf when a crashing in the brush directly ahead stopped them so sharply that they tore up the snow with their braced forefeet and squat haunches. Ten seconds later a caribou burst through and flashed across an open not more than twenty yards from where they stood. They could hear its swift panting as it disappeared. And then came the pack.

At sight of those swiftly moving gray bodies Baree's heart leaped for an instant into his throat. He forgot Maheegun, and that she had run away from him. The moon and the stars went out of existence for him. He no longer sensed the chill of the snow under his feet. He was wolf—all wolf. With the warm scent of the caribou in his nostrils, and the passion to kill sweeping through him like fire, he darted after the pack.

"At sight of those swiftly moving gray bodies Baree's heart leaped for an instant into his throat."

It was as if Baree had belonged to the pack always. He had joined it naturally, as other stray wolves had joined it from out of the bush; there had been no ostentation, no welcome such as Maheegun had given him in the open, and no hostility. He belonged with these slim, swift-footed outlaws of the old forests, and his own jaws snapped and his blood ran hot as the smell of the caribou grew heavier, and the sound of its crashing body nearer.

It seemed to him they were almost at his heel when they swept into an open plain, a stretch of barren without a tree or a shrub, brilliant in the light of the stars and moon. Across its unbroken carpet of snow sped the caribou a spare hundred yards ahead of the pack. Now the two leading hunters no longer followed directly in the trail, but shot out at an angle, one to the right and the other to the left of the pursued, and like well-trained soldiers the pack split in halves and spread out fan-shape in the final charge.

The two ends of the fan forged ahead and closed in, until the leaders were running abreast of the caribou, with fifty or sixty feet separating them from the pursued. Thus, adroitly and swiftly, with deadly precision, the pack had formed a horseshoe cordon of fangs from which there was but one course of flight—straight ahead.

Baree had found his place in the lower rim of the horseshoe, so that he was fairly well in the rear when the climax came. The plain made a sudden dip. Straight ahead was the gleam of water—water shimmering softly in the starlight, and the sight of it sent a final great spurt of blood through the caribou's bursting heart. Forty seconds would tell the story—forty seconds of a last spurt for life, of a final tremendous effort to escape death. Baree felt the sudden thrill of these moments, and he forged ahead

How He Discovered Best Constipation Relief

Mr. Joseph F. Glus of Brooklyn, N. Y., writes "In the past 20 years I have been constantly troubled with constipation. Every remedy I tried would work O.K. for a while—but soon failed. The only remedy I have been able to use steadily with good results have been Carter's Little Liver Pills. I don't guess when I take them—I know I'm going to feel relieved." 25c at all druggists.

with the others in that lower rim of the horseshoe as one of the leading wolves made a lunge for the young bull's hamstring. It was a clean miss. A second wolf darted in. And this one also missed.

There was no time for others to take their place. From the broken end of the horseshoe Baree heard the caribou's heavy plunge into water. When Baree joined the pack, a maddened, mouth-frothing, snarling horde, Napamoo, the young bull, was well out in the river and swimming steadily for the opposite shore.

The restless movements of the waters ceased now. A new and wondering interest held them rigid. Fangs closed sharply. A little in the open Baree saw Maheegun, with a big gray wolf standing near her. He went to her again, and this time she remained with flattened ears until he was sniffing her neck. And then, with a vicious snarl, she snapped at him. Her teeth sank deep in the soft flesh of his shoulder, and at the unexpectedness and pain of her attack, he let out a yelp. The next instant the wolf was gone.

Again caught unexpectedly, Baree went down with the wolf's fangs at his throat. But in him was the blood of Kazan, the flesh and bone and sinew of Kazan, and for the first time in his life he fought as Kazan fought on that terrible day at the top of the Sun Rock.

That fight, if it had been fair, would have been a victory for Baree, even in his youth and inexperience. In fairness the pack should have waited; it was a law of the pack to wait—until one was done for. But Baree was black; he was a stranger, an interloper, a creature whom they noticed now in a moment when their blood was hot with the rage and disappointment of killers who had missed their prey. A second wolf sprang in, striking Baree treacherously from the flank; and while he was in the snow, his jaws crushing the foreleg of his first foe, the pack was on him en masse.

Such an attack on the young caribou bull would have meant death in less than a minute. Every fang would have found its hold. Baree, by the fortunate circumstance that he was under his first two assailants and protected by their bodies, was saved from being torn instantly into pieces. He knew that he was fighting for his life. Over him the horde of beasts rolled and twisted and snarled; he felt the burning pain of teeth sinking into his flesh; he was smothered; a hundred knives seemed cutting him into pieces; yet no sound—not a whimper or a cry—came from him now in the horror and hopelessness of it all.

It would have ended in another half-minute had the struggle not been at the very edge of the bank. Undermined by the erosion of the spring floods, a section of this bank suddenly gave way, and with it went Baree and half the pack. In a flash Baree thought of the water and the escaping caribou. For a bare instant the cave-in had set him free of the pack, and in that space he gave a single leap over the gray backs of his enemies into the deep water of the stream. Close behind him half a dozen jaws snapped shut on empty air. As it had saved the caribou, so this strip of water shimmering in the glow of the moon and stars had saved Baree.

The stream was not more than a hundred feet in width, but it cost Baree close to a losing struggle to get across it. Until he dragged himself out on the opposite shore, the extent of his injuries was not impressed upon him fully. One hind leg, for the time, was useless; his forward left shoulder was laid open to the bone; his head and body were torn and cut; and as he dragged himself slowly away from the stream, the trail he left in the snow was a red path of blood. It trickled from his panting jaws, between which his tongue was bleeding; it ran down his legs and flanks and belly, and it dripped from his ears, one of which was slit clean for two inches as though cut with a knife. His instincts were dazed, his perception of things clouded as if by a veil drawn close over his eyes.

C.P.R. Weston Shops

Building Covers 160 Acres and Property Represents Investment of $8,000,000

The Young Men's Section of the Winnipeg Board of Trade were the guests of the Canadian Pacific Railway at an informal luncheon recently, at which an opportunity was given those in attendance to see through the Weston shops.

The construction of these shops was commenced in August, 1903, and completed July, 1905, representing an investment of $8,000,000. The property appropriated for shop purposes was 320 acres, and 160 acres are actually at the present time being used for shop purposes. The plant consists of 13 different shop buildings and one central store or supply building. There is 35 miles of service, industrial tracks and paved roadways used in conjunction with transportation of material and supplies. The machinery equipment consists of 1,179 machines, 463 electric motors representing a total horsepower of 6,300, boiler power plant generating 2,500 h.p. consuming daily 250,000 gallons of water. There are 32 miles of water, steam and oil and air pipes used in connection with the utilities, and the average number of men employed is 2,500. The coal consumed each day during winter months averages 75 tons. The monthly payroll amounts to $250,000.00.

The principal buildings consist of a general store building carrying a stock of material representing $1,225,000, with an annual turnover of $5,000,000. The iron foundry, with a capacity of 400 tons, is at present turning out 100 tons per month. In conjunction with the foundry there is a modern pattern shop in which all patterns are manufactured and stored, holding patterns to the value of $75,000.00.

The locomotive shop has a capacity in output of 36 locomotives per month, and in addition contributes to the finishing of manufactured material to the amount of $125,000.00 each month. The blacksmith and forge shop is kept up-to-date in the matter of machinery mass production, and is fully equipped with dies and jigs. The frog shop, from a small beginning as a repair shop only, has developed to such proportions that all frogs, new and repaired, required for use on western lines, are now handled in this plant. The east and west coach shops, with a capacity of 50 general repairs per month, are worked at their peak during the months of November to May, giving employment to a large number of tradesmen. The wood mill is modern in every respect and in addition to taking care of the requirements in the loco shop, manufactures material and parts required in the repair of cars and locomotives, taking care of the territory as far west as Moose Jaw and east to Fort William. The boiler shop of this plant is the largest of its kind in the Dominion, devoted exclusively to boiler building and repairs. Freight car and steel car shops are capable of rebuilding and putting into service 50 freight cars per day. The tender, wheel and work equipment shop is the most modern of the plant. Cast iron freight wheels and steel tired coach wheels are assembled in this shop and the capacity is 125 pair cast iron and 36 pair steel tired per day.

The company and its officers, by their personal interest, encourage all suggestions offered for the welfare of its employees. The Weston shops grounds and surroundings are kept in perfect condition and during the summer season are beautified by having a large number of flower beds and plots laid out in the different parts of the ground, in which the finest flowers are grown and kept in good order. We have no druggist in our town, but I saw your medicine in T. Eaton's catalogue. I am a farmer's wife, so have all kinds of work to do inside and outside the house. My baby is a nice healthy girl, who weighed nine pounds at birth. I am feeling fine after putting in a large garden since baby came. (She is as good as she can be.) Yours is the best medicine for women, and I have told about it and even written to my friends about it." — Mrs. ANNIE E. AYARS, Spring Valley, Sask.

PURE RICH BLOOD MEANS GOOD HEALTH

Also it Means Bright Eyes, Red Lips and Rosy Cheeks

The lack of sufficient red, health-giving blood does not end merely in pale faces and lustreless eyes. It is much more serious. Bloodless people are the tired, languid, run-down folk who have no enjoyment in life. They have heart palpitation, headaches and backaches, no appetite, sometimes fainting spells, and always nervousness. Just a little more rich, red blood and these troubles vanish. To get this new, rich, red blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are just the thing you need. That is why these pills have a world-wide reputation as a blood and nerve tonic. Among those who have proved the truth of these statements is Miss Annie M. Blonski, Woodbridge, Man., who says: "I became very weak and nervous, had pains in my side and back and suffered from frequent sick headaches. I was hardly able to do anything about the house and would awake with a start at night, with my heart pounding violently. If I walked upstairs I would be breathless and my heart would flutter rapidly. I used doctor's medicine but it did not do me any permanent good. Then I was advised to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them, and I can only say that they did wonders for me. I am now well and strong again and able to do all my work, and this is all due to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I have recommended the pills to others who have taken them with equally good results."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Believe Alaska Was Once Tropical Country

Prospectors Plan to Make Further Investigations Next Summer

Buried tree trunks found in Alaska have set scientists wondering whether Alaska was once a tropical or semi-tropical country. Prospectors who recently returned from the interior brought with them samples of sand and bark of strange trees which they had found at the bottom of a shaft they had sunk in quest of gold. The men ascended the Kobuk River and traveled forty miles south. Here in numerous holes they found deep sand in layers similar to the drift of great storms, buried trunks of trees with rough bark as of fruit trees and long wide blades of grass like bamboo, sorghum or papyrus. The size of the vegetation indicates a former tropical climate. Further investigation is planned for early summer in 1926.

A triumph of chic and slenderness. In every detail it illustrates the theory that the long line is the shortest route to slenderness. Two inverted plaits extend full length on either side of the front. A straight piece of the material is folded to form a trimming-band two inches wide and placed beneath the edge of the outside plait before it is stitched. Flat bone buttons trim the band. The back is plain and extends over the shoulder, fastening onto the front in yoke effect. The V-shaped neck opening is very becoming, and is finished with a tailored collar. The diagram pictures the simple design of No. 1207, which is in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 38 requires 4 yards of 36-inch, or 3 3/4 yards of 40-inch material. Price 20 cents.

Our Fashion Book, illustrating the newest and most practical styles, will be of interest to every home dress-maker. Price of the book 10 cents the copy.

Sir Robert Horne Returns From Canada Urging Britons to Emigrate

"I have just come back from Canada," declared Sir Robert Horne, speaking in Scotland, "and I cannot imagine that any man here would rather have a precarious existence, dependent upon charity, than go to the great Dominion and gain a new existence for himself by the sweat of his brow."

The foregoing sentiments were broadcasted over Great Britain by Ralph B. Blumfeld, chairman and editor of the Daily Express, who added his personal suggestion that as Sir Robert Horne was now free of governmental office he might devote his administration and organizing ability to overseeing a scheme under which desirable people could emigrate to Canada with good chances of success.

Answer to Last Week's Puzzle

Many Crossing Mishaps

Railway Will Soon Have to Take Steps To Protect Property

Not the least of expenses in connection with operation of vast railway systems is the damage continually done at level crossings by motorists who refuse to obey signals, or who give the meek excuse that their brakes failed to work. That the railways are approaching a stage where they will have to have protection against flank attacks from automobile drivers running through crossing gates and into the side of moving trains, is the belief of J. P. Pratt, assistant counsel for the Central Region, Canadian National Railways.

Manufacturing In B.C.

Growth of Manufacturing in the Province Has Been Phenomenal
British Columbia's growth as a manufacturing province is well illustrated by figures compiled by the Provincial Government. In 1880 only 415 plants were in operation, producing about $3,000,000 worth of goods per year, whereas in 1924 no less than 3,566 firms were in operation, with a total payroll of $107,000,000, and produced goods to the gross value of $285,000,000 the capital investment amounting to over $300,000,000.

A War Of Extermination

Despite the fact that the statesmen of the great European nations, and the League of Nations, are earnestly striving to bring about understandings and conditions which will have the effect of preventing future wars, we nevertheless read in magazines of this and that invention and the effect it will have on the "next war."

The "next war" is, as a matter of fact, now being waged. It has been in progress for some time and is increasing in intensity. But instead of being a war between man and man, it is a war of extermination between man and insects. Man has won victories in certain sectors of the battle line which extends around the world, although, in the language of the late Great War, he has not yet been successful in fully consolidating his position, thus making his victory secure and lasting. In other sectors, the insects still have the upper hand and seem to be gaining.

The battle between man and the insects is not spectacular but it is a strenuous and extremely costly one fraught with grave possibilities if there is any slackening in man's onslaught until final and complete victory is obtained.

In the Canadian House of Commons last session, Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture, made a brief statement regarding the offensive being waged under the direction of that department against crop destroying insects in Canada when he was asking for an increased appropriation for this work, notwithstanding the general policy of reducing rather than increasing expenditures and extending the scope of public services.

Addressing the Rotary Club of Ottawa a few days ago, Dr. Arthur Gibson, chief of the entomological branch of the Department of Agriculture, stated that from 10 to 25 per cent. of every crop grown is destroyed by insects, while millions of dollars worth of pulpwood was destroyed from the same cause.

It is estimated that the boll weevil causes damage to the cotton crop of the United States to the extent of $200,000,000 each and every year, and it has been prophesied that this beetle may in time ruin the cotton growing industry of that country.

The bot, or warble-fly, which affects cattle, causes a loss in Great Britain alone of from $10,000,000 to $35,000,000 annually.

Here in the West we know by bitter experience what the sawfly and other insects do to the grain crops, and how many a promising field has been ruined by them.

But it is not in relation to crops and cattle alone that insects are waging war on mankind. Until comparatively recent years, one-half the human death rate of the world each year was due to malaria, transmitted from person to person by the mosquito. For more than a score of years the mosquito held up the construction of the Panama Canal. Between 1881 and 1889 twenty-two thousand laborers on canal construction died of malaria or yellow fever, and the failure of successive canal companies was due to the mosquito, and it was not until the United States engineers studied and fought the mosquito that the canal was finally constructed.

The Rockefeller Foundation has provided millions of dollars for a campaign against the hook-worm.

But if this war against the insects is to succeed it must not be left solely to Governments, scientific bodies and interested experts. As in the Great War, the whole manhood and womanhood of the nations must be mobilized for victory.

The common house fly is a much more dangerous enemy of man than even yet, notwithstanding all the educational work that has been done, the average person realizes. If typhoid, diphtheria and other diseases are to be wiped out, the filth and disease carrying house fly must be first exterminated, and "swatting the fly" should not be regarded merely as a passing fad, or an amusing diversion, but as a really serious business in every Canadian home.

Government experts have compiled much valuable information against insects—those which should be fought and destroyed and those which are allies to man. It remains for the individual citizen to apply that knowledge and co-operate with the Government departments of health and agriculture in waging the battle, upon the successful outcome of which depends human lives and countless millions of dollars annually.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

NOVEMBER 29

PAUL BEFORE AGRIPPA

Golden Text: I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision. Acts 26:19.
Lesson: Acts 25:1 to 26:32.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 43:1-5.

The Text Explained and Illumined

Paul's Defense Before Agrippa, verses 1-23.—King Agrippa was Herod Agrippa II., ruler of small principalities in Northern Palestine, with the title of king; son of Herod Agrippa I., who slew James the son of Zebedee; great nephew of Herod Antipas, who beheaded John the Baptist; great grandson of Herod the Great, who massacred the innocents in his attempt to kill the infant Jesus. Paul began his defense not only for himself but of the gospel he preached by courteously referring to Agrippa's knowledge of Jewish questions and customs, and then he told of his own life as a Pharisee, his persecution of Christians, his conversion, and his commission to preach to the Gentiles. To the heavenly vision granted him on the way to Damascus he had been obedient.

"It is not enough that a man should say, 'Whereupon I saw the vision,' or 'Whereupon I was convinced of the vision,' or 'Whereupon I understood the vision.' Sight, apprehension, theology, orthodoxy, they are all very well, but the right result is, 'Whereupon I was not disobedient unto the vision.' And unless your knowledge of Christ makes you do, and keeps you from doing, a thousand things, it is only an idle vision which adds to your guilt!" (Dr. Alexander MacLaren).

BABY'S OWN TABLETS ARE OF GREAT VALUE

To All Mothers Having Young Children in the Home

No other medicine is of such aid to mothers of young children as is Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are the very best medicine a mother can give her little ones during the dreaded teething time because they regulate the stomach and bowels and thus drive out constipation and indigestion; prevent colic and diarrhoea and break up colds and simple fevers.

Concerning Baby's Own Tablets, Mrs. John A. Patterson, Scotch Village, N.S., says:—"I have six children, and all the medicine they ever get is Baby's Own Tablets. I would use nothing else for them and can strongly recommend the Tablets to all other mothers."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

John Shields, Maryland's champion whittler, has made a violin from matches.

Simple and Sure.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is so simple in application that a child can understand the instructions. Used as a liniment the only direction is to rub, and when used as a dressing to apply. The directions are so plain and unmistakable that they are readily understood by young or old.

Plan To Reduce Crime

Offer $2,500 Reward For Best Programme to Reduce Crime in New York

An award of $2,500 is offered by the Society for the Prevention of Crime to the citizen or public official who presents, before January 11, the best programme to bring about the reduction of crime in New York City.

The announcement of the award states that while a single suggestion may win, the problem is so complex it seemed best to open the way for a programme or series of related efforts toward the solution. The contest is open to every citizen and public official in the United States.

The total number of words submitted must not exceed 2,000, which may include not only an exposition of the plan but argument for it. A brief summary, however, may accompany the manuscript, which must be typewritten. No manuscript will be acknowledged or returned.

Homestead Entries

File On 29 Homesteads in Four Western Provinces in Western Canada

Homestead entries in the four western provinces during the month of September numbered 29, a decrease as compared with the same month last year, according to a report issued by the Dominion lands branch. During September last two homesteads were filed on in Manitoba; ten in Saskatchewan, fifteen in Alberta and two in British Columbia.

Miller's Worm Powders work so effectively that no traces of worms can be found. The pests pass away in the stools without being perceptible. They make an entire and clean sweep of the intestines, and nothing in the shape of a worm can find lodgement there when these powders are in operation. Nothing could be more thorough or desirable than their action.

Fame after all is but an elevation on which the victim is placed in order to give the public a better chance to throw mud at him.

As a vermicide an excellent preparation is Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. It has saved the lives of countless children.

Epicures are people who dislike to waste good hunger on poor victuals.

People who strike in the dark may mean well, but they seldom hit the right spot.

Limit Size of Farms

Instead of 160 acres, only 80 acres of land can now be bought from the Ontario Government by settlers who would move into the northern clay belt. There are believed to be many advantages in the change.

Her Heart Palpitated She Had Fainting Spells

Mrs. J. Wilson, Port George, N.S., writes:—"I suffered from palpitation of the heart and fainting spells, and, at times, I could not be left alone I was so nervous."

My trouble was caused from overwork and worry, having been left alone with a large family.

I had tried everything, without any relief, but I know, to-day, that I would have been a nervous wreck but for your wonderful

ASK IMMEDIATE COMPLETION OF THE H. B. ROAD

Winnipeg.—Arguments of Western Canada in pressing for completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway were advanced before the conference by F. R. McMillan, Saskatoon; Brig.-Gen. R. W. Paterson, Winnipeg, president of the On-to-the-Bay Association; Prof. R. C. Wallace, of the Manitoba University; and F. H. Martin, Winnipeg.

Armed with reports of competent engineers and other authorities, the speakers called upon the assembly to give its support to the "just demand of the prairies." Millions of dollars of the people's money, Mr. McMillan asserted, had been expended on the road which exhaustive investigation has proved to be feasible in addition to affording a needed outlet to the sea for the central portions of the Dominion.

Those who were agitating for the completion of the road were not asking for the expenditure of forty or fifty million dollars, Brig.-Gen. Paterson said. "All we ask is the fulfillment of pledges made by successive federal governments and the same chance that has been given to Montreal and other Canadian ports, upon which many millions have been spent in development. We are only asking for reasonable treatment. There is no attempt being made to divert traffic from the railways at present serving the country, but export trade now going through the United States is wanted. General Paterson warned against dangers of further procrastination, stating that rehabilitation of the road would involve double the outlay if it were abandoned to the elements.

General Paterson estimated it would require approximately six million dollars to complete the road to Port Nelson and provide the necessary harbor and channel facilities.

Dr. Wallace referred to the potentialities of the north country, declaring the completion of the line would contribute to the extension of the country north and south and bind together east and west.

For Calendar Reform

League of Nations Would Establish Fixed Day For Easter

Geneva.—An appeal for help in reforming the calendar has been dispatched throughout the world by the League of Nations, which especially craves assistance in the delicate task of establishing a fixed date for Easter. Calendar reform has been entrusted by the league to a special committee which includes ecclesiastical authorities of large religious movements and also a United States member, Willis H. Booth, former president of the International Chamber of Commerce.

Secretary-General Drummond, in a letter sent to all members of the league, explains that the need of definitely fixing a date for the Easter festival is felt in economic and educational circles. All governments are requested to forward views of their educational departments in the matter.

Agreement Reached

Peking.—The customs conference announces that its sub-committee appointed to elaborate a formula regarding the restoration of tariff autonomy to China has arrived at a complete agreement. The formula was submitted to a full meeting of the delegates on November 12.

Japan itself is about three times the size of New York state and with all her colonies and dependencies is about one-fourth larger than France.

Saskatchewan Corn Show

G. H. Hoffman, Maple Creek, Carries Off Sweepstakes

G. H. Hoffman, Saskatchewan's corn king at the first corn show held in Maple Creek, was again awarded first place at the third provincial corn show held at Indian Head.

Maple Creek made a clean sweep of the special prizes, for in addition to the sweepstakes, Mr. Hoffman won the silver trophy cup offered by the Ogilvie Flour Milling Company for the best exhibit of ten ears of any variety of white or yellow Dent, winning this competition with Minnesota No. 13.

A. J. Colquhoun, of Maple Creek, won the shield offered by the Regina board of trade for the best ten ears of any variety of Flint field corn, and also the silver cup donated by the Saskatchewan Wholesale Implement Association for permanent competition amongst Saskatchewan exhibitors showing corn for the first time. Miss Eunice Ford, Maple Creek, won the silver cup offered by the Saskatchewan Creamery Company for the best ten ears exhibited by a girl in the junior section.

A. S. Unsworth, of Piapot, won the first prize for the best sheaf of corn grown under field conditions. His sheaf was considered by the judges to be one of the finest exhibits of the whole show as there was a great bulk of green forage and ears that would all have been prize ears peeping out of the foliage.

Three other prizes for the same event were awarded to D. Hoffman, G. H. Hoffman and E. G. Hoffman, Maple Creek.

Saskatchewan's fourth provincial corn show will be held at Estevan. The invitation, presented by T. A. Torgeson, president of the Estevan Agricultural Society, and managing director of the Prairie Nurseries, was accepted.

Canada's Total Trade Shows Big Increase

For Seven Months Ending October Increase Was $197,000,000

Ottawa.—Canada's total trade increased $197,000,000 during the seven months ended October, according to figures issued by the department of customs and excise. The increase is in comparison with the figures for the corresponding seven months of the previous fiscal year.

As between export and import trade, it is made up as follows:

Increase in export trade $129,000,000; increase in import trade, $86,000,000. Total trade increase $197,000,000.

Over the seven months period the increase in exports of farm products classed as mainly food, was fifty-two millions; in farm products other than foods, thirteen millions; in animals and animal products, twenty-seven millions. Exports of wood, wood products and paper increased sixteen millions.

Says Hydrogen Will Run Motor

Toronto.—Professor J. C. McLennan, head of the physics department at the University of Toronto, famous for his discoveries and researches with helium, predicts that there will be some day a new type of motor which would receive its power from hydrogen and the driver will carry extra tanks in his vest pocket.

RACIAL REVOLT SWEEPS THROUGH ISLAMIC WORLD

Paris.—The rebellion against the French administration in Syria is not simply an internal quarrel, but the symptom of a vast religious and racial revolt that is sweeping through the Islamic world. This was the warning which General Sarrail, recently recalled as French high commissioner in Syria, voiced before members of the joint army and foreign relations committee of the Chamber of Deputies.

But, he added, the flame had been fanned by the attitude of his predecessors toward the family of Sultan Altrash, who, fired with the ambition to be a second Abd-el-Krim, is leading the Druses with their adherents—Bedouins and certain trans-Jordanian elements—against the French.

The French forces, now amounting to 20,000 effectives in Syria, he contended, were insufficient, and he laid stress on the need of reinforcements.

Says Canada Needs National Sentiment

People Must Solve Many Problems Opinion of Winnipeg Man

Winnipeg.—The moulding of a national sentiment towards the development of the Dominion creation of a spirit of imperial unity, national economy and aggressive assault upon the fundamental problems facing Canada today were urged by leaders in the industrial life of the Dominion, at a session of the national economic conference here.

Travers Sweatman, K.C., former president of the Winnipeg board of trade, declared Canada's destiny depended upon the measure of eagerness and determination with which the people of the Dominion applied themselves to the tasks which, when solved, would take the country out of its present difficulties and elevate it to a position among the virile, prosperous nations of the world.

Predicts Greater Immigration Next Year

C.P.R. President Says New Arrangement With Railways Will Help

Winnipeg.—"I confidently expect a revival in British immigration to Canada in 1926 due to steady publicity and the facilitating of admissions arising out of the new arrangements between the Canadian Government and the railways," said E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who arrived here to address the delegates attending the economic conference.

"There is no general tendency in Great Britain to desert Canada," said Mr. Beatty, "but we have not been as insistent as we should in pressing the advantages of this country or until recently to offset the adverse propaganda there, most of which has had nothing whatever to do with Canada as a desirable place to live in."

Canadian Exhibit Is Success

Glowing Accounts Received at Ottawa From New Zealand

Ottawa.—Dispatches from Dunedin, N.Z., to the department of immigration here, contain glowing accounts of the success of the Canadian court at the Dunedin exhibition which was opened Nov. 17. The dispatch, from D. H. Ross, Canadian trade commissioner in Australia, who is in charge of the Dunedin exhibit, declares the Canadian section as follows:

"The exhibition covers 16 acres, and is one-third the size of Wembley. The Canadian court is 27,000 square feet in area and is in the most prominent section of the grounds.

"The magnificent golden entrance gates to the court are inscribed with a 'Welcome.' At the end of the main corridor is a striking diorama composed of a huge waterfall, pouring over 10,000 gallons of water a minute in a setting of natural rocks, trees and shrubs with a background depicting actual scenery of the Canadian Rockies.

"The lighting system changes at intervals, from broad daylight to moonlight, providing a spectacle that has not been seen at any previous Canadian exhibition. Canadian emblems, including maple leaves, beavers, animals, and the coat of arms of the Dominion, are used extensively."

Juvenile Champions Attend Winter Fair

Six From Prairie Provinces Enjoy Royal Show at Toronto

Toronto.—After literally bringing home the bacon by producing the highest grade hogs in their respective localities, six juvenile champion swine breeders went to the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto as guests of the Canadian Pacific Railway. To Vern Johnson and Oscar Gudnagson, who are from the Peace River district, 15 miles from the end of steel, and 2,500 from Toronto, this constitutes the railroad journey in their lives. Miss Mamie Cormack and Miss Grace Ewen, of Kenton, Man., are the champion breeders of Manitoba, while Lorne Joynt and Fred Argue, the Saskatchewan champions, are from Rouleau, Sask.

New Garnet Wheat

Hon. W. R. Motherwell Attaches Much Significance to Discovery

Toronto.—Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Dominion minister of agriculture, who attended the Royal Winter Fair here, attaches much significance to the discovery of the new early-ripening Garnet wheat which, he said, was just as prolific as other varieties.

New impetus to grain growing in the west will result by use of Garnet wheat, according to Hon. C. M. Hamilton, minister of agriculture for Saskatchewan, who is in Toronto en route for Ottawa.

HOW FARMERS HAVE BENEFITED BY WHEAT POOL

Chicago.—Wheat farmers in the United States this year will profit to the extent of between 50 and 75 million dollars as a result of indirect benefit derived from the way the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers Limited has handled the Canadian wheat crop.

This startling commentary and outstanding praise for the Western Canada Wheat Pool came from the lips of Theodore E. Hammatt, of the federal department of commerce, who has just returned from an extensive study of the pool marketing methods. Hammatt was sent to Western Canada by Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, to study the new method of marketing grain and he is enthusiastic in his praise.

As the personal representative of Hoover, Hammatt explored the wheat pool from every angle. He canvassed its record for effectiveness as well as possibilities for the future, and he found no flaw either in the principle or its application. Hammatt gives unreserved credit to the wheat pool for keeping up the price of world wheat, and it is in this connection that he bases his belief that American farmers have benefited enormously by feeding the wheat slowly to the market, instead of allowing the farmers to dump their crop promiscuously as in previous years. They met the world demand without creating a surplus.

Has Faith in Canada

Sir Henry Thornton Entertained at Dinner in British House of Commons

London.—Belief that Canada was on the threshold of great prosperity, was expressed here by Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, who was entertained at dinner in the House of Commons by Mr. Lloyd George.

Sir Henry spoke of the opportunities awaiting the investment of British capital in Canada, and emphasized the importance of obtaining British capital in the Dominion rather than capital from foreign sources.

Among the guests were Premier Baldwin, former Premier Ramsay MacDonald and Right Hon. Winston Churchill.

Approve Peace Pact

British House of Commons Ratifies Security Agreement

London.—The spirit of Locarno pervaded the crowded House of Commons when ratification of the European (Locarno) security pact—the Treaty of Mutual Guarantees—was voted 375 to 13. A Labor amendment was defeated previously, 332 to 130.

When the speaker put the motion for approval, presented by Austen Chamberlain, secretary for foreign affairs, there was an almost unanimous shout in its favor. But back bench Labor members persisted in calling for a division. The majority of the Laborites voted with the government, but about a score abstained from voting.
